Nova

TABLE

The rectangular version of Nova interprets the dining table as an architectural, material-focused presence. Marble slabs define a natural, striking surface, while the double ribbon-shaped brass base supports it, enhancing the veining, proportions and visual depth.

The metal, shaped and finished in polished or matt versions, introduces a warm, refined detail. Hand-decorated parts create a sculptural effect that brings the base to the fore, balancing solidity, movement and material quality.

Rectangular Nova is designed for dining spaces where the table has a central, prominent role. The natural strength of marble, the presence of brass and variations in the finishes give each piece a unique appearance, reflecting HESSENTIA's exploration of distinctive materials, handcraftsmanship and contemporary Made in Italy design.

HESSENTIA can customize this piece to suit your project needs. Some limitations apply.
