Atlas

TABLE

Atlas is a HESSENTIA table with a strong architectural identity, built through a dialogue between a marble top and U-shaped metal elements. Its simple structure creates a bold visual impact, with proportion, material and finishes defining a contemporary table of distinctive character.

The marble top, divided into several parts according to the size, introduces an elegant, dynamic visual rhythm, enhancing natural veining and the uniqueness of the surface. U-shaped metal bases with a refined, expressive handcrafted finish support the composition with graphic and material strength, balancing formal rigour, structural solidity and refined finishes.

Atlas finds its strength in ambiences where the table organises the space. Available sizes allow it to suit dining projects of different scales, while retaining a clear, restrained architectural character. The natural uniqueness of marble and the quality of the metal base finish give each table a different appearance, expressing HESSENTIA's balance of proportion, material and contemporary Made in Italy design.

HESSENTIA can customize this piece to suit your project needs. Some limitations apply.
