Penelope is an upholstered armchair with soft, sinuous lines, designed to introduce comfort, tactile elegance and a recognizable presence into contemporary interiors. Its balanced proportions and enveloping profile allow the seat to fit naturally into both living and sleeping areas.

The structure is wrapped in soft padding that embraces the body and defines continuous surfaces. The compact volume is shaped through curves that convey a sense of welcome without weighing down the composition.

Four decorative seams run across the seat and emphasize its roundness, introducing a discreet graphic rhythm. Plissé embroidery wraps the structure and transforms the upholstery into a distinctive element of the design. The succession of folds gives tactile depth to the surface and enhances the quality of the artisanal workmanship.

Penelope can be upholstered in fabric or leather, with customizable combinations according to the interior project. The choice of material changes the perception of the armchair, highlighting the softness of the shapes, the design of the stitching and the continuity of the plissé detail.

Handmade in Italy, Penelope interprets the contemporary armchair for HESSENTIA through a dialogue between comfort and tailoring precision. It is a versatile seat capable of characterizing residential interiors, bedrooms, lounge areas and hospitality spaces.
