For HESSENTIA, Alma is an upholstered armchair with sinuous, enveloping shapes, designed to provide a deep seat and an immediate sense of comfort. Curved lines and generous volumes develop around the body, creating a soft, continuous and visually balanced profile.

Seat and back flow into a compact composition in which every element contributes to defining a single volume. The continuity of the surfaces enhances the purity of the shape and makes the armchair recognizable without relying on superimposed decorative details.

The deep proportions invite a relaxed posture, while the padding follows the body with softness. Alma interprets comfort through the relationship between volume, ergonomics and upholstery quality, maintaining a measured, contemporary character.

The armchair can be upholstered in leather or fabric and customized through different chromatic and tactile combinations. The choice of material highlights the softness of the curves, the continuity of the surface and the dialogue with the surrounding ambience.

Handmade in Italy, Alma is conceived for living areas, bedrooms, lounges and hospitality projects. It is an armchair in which comfort, minimal lines and artisanal craftsmanship come together naturally.
