Linfa

NIGHT TABLE

Linfa is a bedroom night table in which marble becomes an integral part of the front surface. It belongs to Linfa collection, which also includes a chest of drawers and coordinated storage units.

Marble covers the drawer fronts and highlights the veining, colours and natural variations of the stone. Each selection creates a different configuration and gives the piece the uniqueness of the material.

Metal plays both a structural and visual role.

The drawers are supported at their ends by two internal metal uprights. The outer elements instead feature rounded shapes and a lacquered finish selected in harmony with the marble.

A slender frame also separates the marble from the body of the unit, making the layered construction clearly legible.

This night table is available in right and left configurations, allowing a mirrored pair to be created on either side of the bed. The product can be coordinated with the chest of drawers from the same collection.

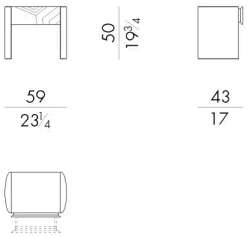

Handmade in Italy, Linfa interprets bedroom storage through natural stone, lacquer, metal and constructional precision.
