BED

Leaf bed with integrated drawers combines a generous upholstered volume with one or two circular drawer units placed at the ends of the headboard. The bed belongs to Leaf collection and develops the organic language of the original version through a more articulated configuration.

A three-dimensional embroidery with a flowing, wave-patterned movement wraps around the headboard and bed frame, creating continuity between the different parts of the bed. The workmanship shapes the surface and generates depth, variations of light and a tactile perception inspired by the natural veins of a leaf.

One or two circular elements are incorporated at both sides of the headboard, each equipped with a drawer. These volumes replace the traditional separate night table and become an integral part of the bed's architecture.

This bed can be configured with two side drawers or with a single element on either the right or left side. This modularity allows the composition to adapt to the size of the room, the spatial layout and the specific requirements of the interior project.

Metal details support both the bed frame and the circular elements. The metal visually lightens the upholstered volumes and creates a clear contrast with the softness of the upholstery.

Leaf is available fully upholstered in leather or quilted fabric. The possibility of customising material and colour allows the bed to be coordinated with the pouf and armchair from the same collection or with other elements in the bedroom.

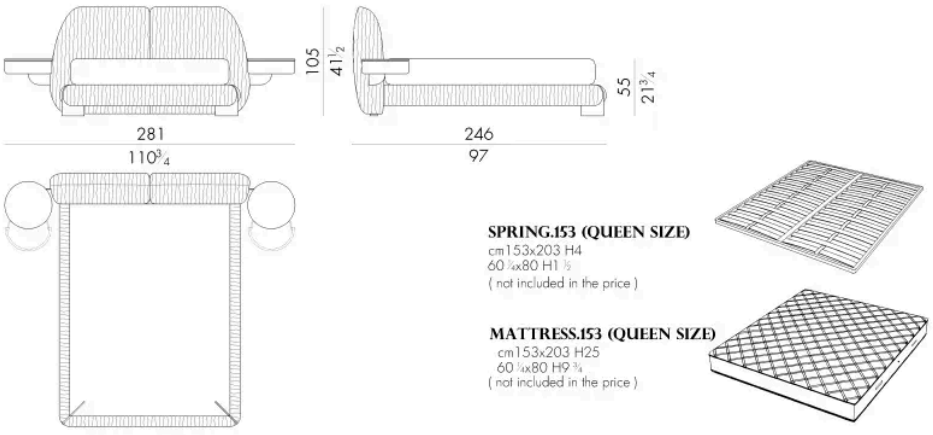

The integrated drawers make the bed particularly suitable for contemporary bedrooms in which furniture, functionality and visual continuity need to coexist.

Handmade in Italy, Leaf bed with integrated drawers brings together three-dimensional embroidery, organic shape and functional design. It is a solution in which the night table is not simply placed beside the bed, but becomes an integral part of its design.
