Tita

CHAIR

Tita is a contemporary chair with soft, circular forms, defined by a solid ash structure available in natural or painted finishes. The design brings together simple geometry, wood craftsmanship and comfort, creating a compact, recognisable seat.

The upholstered seat is supported by three structural elements with semicircular cross-sections and softened corners.

The rear element rises to support the curved backrest, following the chair's profile and creating an enveloping shape. The continuity of the wooden structure gives visual stability, while curves soften the geometric rigour and create a welcoming seat.

In the natural ash version, grain and colour variations play a leading role in the design. The painted finish allows the character of the wood to be adjusted while keeping its structure visible and adapting it to different interior compositions.

The seat can be customised with a selection of fabrics and leathers, creating tonal continuity or contrasts between the warmth of wood and the tactile depth of the upholstery.

Handmade in Italy, Tita interprets the contemporary chair through solid wood craftsmanship, balanced proportions and customisation. It is designed for dining rooms, living areas, restaurants and contemporary hospitality projects.
