

With a distinctive, contemporary design, Hemo bookcase features shelves with curved ends and half-moon uprights. The imposing structure is lightened by a special artisanal painting technique: a shade that touches different shades of the same colour, giving a sense of lightness and dynamism. Made with a textured fibreglass finish, the bookcase features a richly textured surface that enhances its unique character. The entire production process, from the fibreglass finish to the painting, is performed by hand, making each piece an exclusive creation.
