Domino storage unit suggests a perfect balance between design and materials used like decorative resin, colored pigments and natural finishes. The main features of this item are represented by vertical lines and three-dimensionality of the doors where metal inserts are not only decorative but also functional to open them. The bottom parts of the drawers are upholstered with saddle leather, a precious material that matches really well with oak wood used for internal structure. The refinement of this storage unit may be exalted if combined with marble tables.

HESSENTIA can customize this piece to suit your project needs. Some limitations apply.
