Dexter

TABLE

Dexter is a HESSENTIA round table in which colour becomes material. Its identity arises from the exploration of resin and its expressive possibilities, where visual depth, transparency, reflections and colour variations transform the table into a sculptural, dynamic piece that brings together art, design and craftsmanship.

Resin embodies the beauty of a fluid material taking solid form, balancing strength and lightness, emotion and innovation. Through imagination, this distinctive material can evoke the lightness of glass, the delicacy of crystal and the depth of water.

Artistic resin creates a three-dimensional effect whose appearance changes according to the light and the viewing angle. The material is an active part of the design: it gives volume to colour, creates movement and makes each table a real artwork, one of a kind.

No pour, vein or interplay of light can be recreated exactly.

Dexter interprets the dining table as the visual centre of the space. Its round shape encourages a fluid connection between people, while its material strengthens HESSENTIA's contemporary Made in Italy identity.

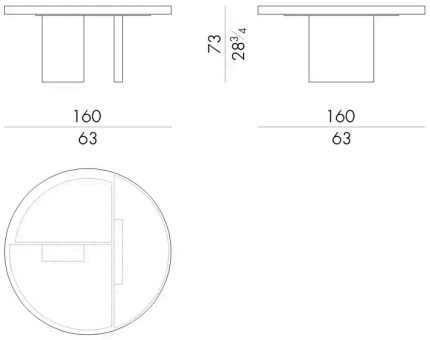

HESSENTIA can customize this piece to suit your project needs. Some limitations apply.
