

The wall lamps Edison are an interesting solution to create and spread a mood lighting. Consisting of a cylindrical metal body, these sconces can be used in sequence to create an extraordinary decorative effect on the wall where they are mounted. The design is minimal and the uniqueness of this lamp is represented by artistic irregular shaped openings in the metal from which a point light comes out. Each lamp is always “one of a piece”, handmade and individually processed by the craftsman-artist. The range of metal finishes thus makes it more versatile and suitable for any room.
