

Side table Kevin can be considered a precious element in a living area: its structure is composed by two geometrical figures, a cone for the base and a thin circle element for the top. The metal base is decorated with a modern engraving able to enhance its three-dimensionality while the top is decorated with a refined handmade technique that recalls the manufacture of the Italian jewelry. The height of this piece makes it suitable to be used either as coffee table matched with a couple of armchairs or to be used as a refined side table next to sofas.
