Grid is a sculptural bronze armchair, defined by an interlacing pattern of tiles that creates a rhythm of solids and voids, reflections and shadows.

Despite the solidity of the material, its form welcomes the guest with surprising harmony, striking a balance between strength and sensitivity. It is a statement piece—an object that transcends its function to become an artistic expression, conveying the beauty of imperfection and the value of detail.

A unique, intense, and tactile piece, designed for those seeking not just design, but emotion.
