STORAGE UNIT

Bridge is a fully open storage unit designed to create a light separation between the living and dining areas. Its narrow, low and strongly elongated proportions organise the space while preserving the visual continuity between the different areas.

The transparent bronze glass top reveals the objects inside, making the storage unit a display surface as well. Transparency gives the volume lightness and highlights its contents, integrating them into the overall perception of the piece.

Four legs support the structure: their position emphasises its horizontal shape, creating the impression that the volume extends freely beyond its points of support.

The surface has a matt finish with a woven fabric effect, contrasting with glossy legs whose profiles curve outwards. Small brushed metal details complete the composition.

Bronze glass, linen-effect texture, glossy surfaces and metal create different layers of light. The piece remains open and permeable, allowing the eye to pass through it and engage with the objects it holds.

In HESSENTIA's vision, Bridge interprets storage unit as a link between function and space: a structure that divides, displays and organises without becoming a barrier.

HESSENTIA can customize this piece to suit your project needs. Some limitations apply.
