Donald

VANITY

Donald vanity desk is a furnishing element for personal make-up defined by a balance between volumes of different geometries. It belongs to Donald collection, which also includes a night table, coffee tables and coordinated poufs.

The structure is entirely upholstered in leather and features a base that recalls the design of Donald night tables and coffee tables. Two legs taper both downward and upward to support the top and create a dynamic design.

A cylindrical drawer opens through rotation of the structure. The movement transforms the drawer into an active part of the design while keeping the composition compact when closed.

The top is completed by a lacquered tray and an oval mirror. The shape of the mirror follows the curved geometries of the top and reinforces continuity between the different elements.

This vanity desk is designed for bedrooms, walk-in closets or dressing rooms. Its unconventional proportions provide a functional surface for make-up and personal care.

Handmade in Italy, Donald brings together tailored leather upholstery and volumes of different geometries in a balanced composition.
